

NOTIFICATION

about the article written by dr. Trif Almos

- I. The author of the article has expressed his firm decision to assume total responsibility as to the content and also to the vehement and ironic tone of the text.
- II. The Editor-in-Chief does not personally agree with the way the article was worded and with the tone of the author.
- III. As the names of the leaders were not disclosed in the article, I was not in the knowledge of the persons to whom I could have sent the article prior to publishing, for them to be able to read it first.
- IV. Confidentiality of the small group was not breached, as the precise identity of the leaders and of the presenter was not explicitly exposed. In our issues of the Bulletin we have constantly published case descriptions which comply with confidentiality rules.
- V. I wish to apologise to all persons who could have felt attacked by the content of the article.
